maintenance

Maintenance support can be provided for a range of freight rolling stock to insure that safety, performance and operator requirements are effectively met.

Axiom Rail employs specialist engineering staff that provide maintenance support for a large range of rolling stock, this is further reinforced by a technical support and logistics network.

The level of maintenance support can be tailored to meet operational requirements and ensure that performance regime targets are achieved.

A range of packages can be offered:

- Scheduled maintenance, inspection and exams
- Major component replacement
- Performance improvement packages
- Wheel re-profiling
- Technical support
- Mobile services including line of route cover.
- Total fleet and depot management

Axiom Rail has access to an extensive network of depots and facilities located throughout the UK. This network provides the opportunity to reduce movements and improve diagramming by leveraging Axiom Rail's geographic advantage.

With extensive knowledge of fleet maintenance and depot management we are able to offer total fleet management solutions including performance improvement packages. These solutions could be provided at Axiom Rail or third parties depot locations.
